CITY LAYS PLANS FOR UTILITIES

Special Election Due March 28 to Amend Charter

An ordinance calling a special election to amend the city charter was adopted by the council Monday night, on motion of Councilman H. A. Beeger, seconded by Charles G. Lambert.

The election will take place Tuesday, March 28.

The proposed amendments include a rewriting of paragraph 12 of section 3, relating to the powers of the city and its council, and of section 45, relating to public service utilities.

Through a statement prepared by Councilman Paul A. McCarthy, the council explains the reasons for the amendments, as follows:

Gives Flexibility

"The amendment of paragraph 12 section 3 is intended to make more flexibility with respect to the method of procedure for the acquisition of a public utility by the city. In providing for the incurring of obligations the city council is limited by the general laws of the state and by the charter, to those obligations or expenses which can be met from the general income of the city for the fiscal year in which the expenses or obligations are to be met.

"It is felt desirable for the council to have authority to incur an obligation which might avoid this limitation, provided such obligation is confined to revenues which may be produced by a utility to be acquired by the city and that such obligation should not become, under any circumstances, a general obligation of the city to be met by a levy of taxes.

"These provisos would obviate the possibility of such obligations becoming at any time an additional burden to the taxpayers. The amendment to this paragraph limits obligations to be incurred in connection with any public utility to the revenues from that utility, and this precludes the possibility of such obligations being met by the levying of taxes, license fees, or other charges of a general nature on property, business or taxpayers of the city.

Separate Accounts

"The amendment of paragraph 45, relating to public utilities, makes an economically safe and businesslike provision for the keeping of separate accounts for each publicly owned public utility and for reserves of surplus for depreciation including obsolescence, but strikes from the charter the provision now contained therein requiring a cash reserve equal to 15 per cent of the book value of any utility before any of the surplus earnings of that utility can be applied to the general expenses of the city government or even invested in government bonds.

"This provision for a cash surplus of 15 per cent of the book value of the utility is unnecessarily high and prevents proper investment or utilizatiton of such cash surplus. In the case of the water system, which the city now owns and which has a present book value of approximately $478,000 after reasonable depreciation, it would require the accumulation in the water fund of a cash surplus of $71,500 before any part of such surplus could be invested in bonds or used by the council to relieve the taxpayers by the transfer thereof to the general fund of the city. After payment of the cost of our new reservoir and substantial improvements recently made in the distribution system, at present there is a substantial sum of idle money in this fund.

To Relieve Taxpayers

"In a time and under conditions in which we are now living, it seems desirable that, after making all reasonable reserves for a public utility such as the water system, there should be a provision for the transfer from year to year of part of the surplus to relieve taxpayers by thus reducing the amount necessary to be raised for current expenses by taxation. The proposed amendment adequately protects the funds of any public utility owned by the city, and yet enables the council to transfer a part of the surplus earnings to the general fund.

"An additional safeguard is made in that such a transfer requires a five-sevenths vote of the council, which insures against any possible ill-advised action on the part of a bare majority of the council.

"The provisions of section 45 are also changed so that instead of setting up a department which shall necessarily have a superintendent to be appointed by the city manager, provision is made that the city manager may become the superintendent of the department of utilities, and until the city greatly increases in population and requires the time of a separate man as superintendent, this provision is more practical and economical."

San Bruno Calls For Pipe Bids On Relief Work

SAN BRUNO, Feb. 9.—Bids were called by the San Bruno City Council last night for 10,000 lineal feet of cast iron pipe to be used on an unemployment relief project.

The pipe when installed will complete the San Bruno fire protection system. Tanforan will be included in the area into which the system will be installed.

Bond moneys will be used in laying the pipe, the labor being estimated at $4,800.

The supervisors on Monday approved the project as submitted by Robert Klassen, assistant city engineer.

Seventy-four hydants will be included in the call for bids.

Specifications will be so drawn that foreign pipe will be outlawed, giving the peninsula mills a chance to win the work.

The project will be underway on Monday, March 6.

Co. Clerk's Father Dies At Age of 83

Following a period of declining health, Leroy B. Hinman, father of County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman, passed away Saturday evening in a Santa Clara county hospital, where he has been since the Christmas holidays. He was 83 years of age, a native of Illinois, and a pioneer of California.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice B. Hinman; three sons, Elmore B. Hinman, 427 Stambaugh street, with whom he made his home; Dewitt L. Hinman of Sacramento; and Gage J. Hinman of LaPorte, Plumas county; two daughters, Mrs. Mabel Musladin of San Francisco, and Mrs. Betsey Howson of Berkeley; and a sister, Mrs. Leona H. Thompson, of Oakland. He also leaves fifteen grandchildren, and four great grand children.

Mr. Hinman was a pioneer Methodist Minister and grocer.

Committees For County Are Named

Supervisorial committees as announced today by Chairman Manuel Francis of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors are as follows:

Finance—John W. Poole, Redwood City, chairman; Supervisor Rosalie M. Brown, San Mateo; Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma.

Courthouse and Jail—Witt, chairman; Poole; Thompson.

Memorial Park—Francis, chairman; Witt; Poole.

Relief Home—Poole, chairman; Brown; Francis.

About 86 per cent of all the cars sold in the United States range in the wholesale price field under $750.

CO. BOARD IS OPPOSED TO RECALL

First Formal Request For County Manager Received

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors stood of record today opposed to the recall move faced by Governor James Rolph Jr.

Action of the board was taken late yesterday on receipt of a telegram from Frank L. Roohr, Butte county supervisor, urging the board to take a stand against the efforts to remove Rolph.

Roohr called the recall a "useless waste of public funds at a time when we must conserve our finances."

He declared the "supervisors should be unwilling to spend the taxpayers' money to help promote a political feud."

Action of the board was taken on motion of Supervisor Rosalie M. Brown, San Mateo, seconded by Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma.

Local Man Applicant

First formal application for the post of chief executive of San Mateo county came today from Richard E. Savage, 1556 James avenue, this city, a civil and hydraulic engineer connected with the state railroad commission.

"I would like to be granted the privilege of being examined as a candidate for this position and hold myself in readiness to meet the requirements for such examination," Savage wrote in his application filed late yesterday with the board of supervisors.

Under the provisions of the charter, applicants are to be examined by a "qualification board," the legality of which will face a court test in the near future. The post will be open July 1, 1933, and pays $6,000 per year.

Seeks J. P. Post

M. B. O'Connor, 43, of 227 North Delaware street, San Mateo, today has on file with the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors an application to fill the post of justice of the peace at San Mateo.

The office will be vacated shortly by Congressman-elect John J. McGrath when he leaves for Washington to take up his new duties. Judge McGrath holds one of two justiceships in San Mateo, the other being held by Judge Percy Jackson.

O'connor's experience includes three years as United States commissioner for the Territory of Alaska. He has been a home owner of San Mateo for the past 10 years. Those urging his appointment include Judge McGrath, State SenatorParkman, Governor Rolph, City Manager Wilsey, City Attorney Wilson and Councilmen Brady, Cheney and Casey, all of San Mateo.

The post would not be filled, however, if the board of governors of the San Mateo County Federation of Improvement Clubs and Associations has its way. On the ground of economy and because Judge Jackson is able to handle the business of the two courts, the group urges the board not to fill the post at this time.

Opposition to plans of the National Economy League and other groups to have congress abolish or reduce the care and relief of world war or other veterans was voted today by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

Here's What Shortridge Said On Question of Philippines

Senator Samuel M. Shortridge made one of the most eloquent speeches of his career in the United States Senate when the Hawes-Cutting bill was up for debate last month and which was passed over the veto of President Hoover. The act grants independence to the Philippines. Mr. Shortridge before his entrance to the senate and since has been in favor of granting independence to the Philippines. It was one of the issues of his late campaign.

The following is an extract from Senator Shortridge's address:

Mr. President: What I say may be forgotten within the hour, but I am going to recall what others have said, which has not been, and never will be, forgotten. In 1793 George Washington warned the United States to keep out of Europe, and thus far the United States has heeded and followed the wise, far-seeing advice of the Father of his Country.

In 1823 James Monroe warned Europe to keep out of America, and hence the Monroe Doctrine; and thus far Europe has deemed it prudent to heed the advice of James Monroe. It is true that Great Britain once threatened to violate that doctrine, but Grover Cleveland was in the White House and Great Britain was persuaded to desist.

It is true that Germany once threatened to violate that doctrine; but, thank God, Theodore Roosevelt was in the White House, and Germany deemed it prudent to desist that Monroe Doctrine.

Washington, as I have said, warned us to keep out of Europe and Monroe warned Europe to keep out of America, and if I, humble as I am, may presume to advise the United States to get out of the Orient; and if without presumption I may warn the United States, I warn her, when she gets out of the Orient to keep out of the Orient.

We do not wish, nor did our fathers wish, to be entangled in the international century-old controversies, slumbering animosities, as among or between European nations; and since the United States was the inspiration for the freedom of Central and South America, our fathers did not wish, we do not wish, great, powerful European nations to invade America and interfere with the independence of the republics of the New World.

At the expense of repetition, I do not wish the United States of America to become involved in Oriental politics. I want her to keep out of the Orient, to withdraw from the Orient, to come home, and grow and develop here on this continent.

KITTY TURNS HOBO, GOES RIDING RODS

There was no doubt that Betty was a talented and versatile cat. That's why she was official mouser and beloved mascot of the Lackawanna railroad terminal in Hoboken, N. J. Betty sprang a surprise, though, when she boarded the rods of the limited and went for a ride, hobo-fashion. A baggageman spotted her as the train roared by at Morristown and wired ahead to Dover, where another agent flagged the flyer. So Betty is back at the terminal now, wiser but not a bit sadder. In fact, as this picture shows, she's even teaching her kittens how to ride the rods.

Menlo Park

Mrs. Agnes Graham, sister of J. H. Sullivan of Menlo Park, is seriously ill at Mary's Help Hospital, San Francisco. She is a pioneer teacher of Oakland, where she spent the greater portion of her life. Owing to the seriousness of her illness, relatives are constantly at her bedside.

Mayor and Mrs. W. H. Weeden and their grandson, Billy, spent the weekend at Monterey. Mr. Weeden entertained several businessmen who are interested in the Air Ways Ore Mill, while Mrs. Weeden and Billy visited Mrs. Weeden's sister, Mrs. Charles Thomas of Pacific Grove. The principal owners of the mill reside in Menlo Park. On Monday those interested in the device journeyed to Oroville, Grass Valley and Marysville. The mines near Grass Valley were inaccessible due to the unusually heavy snows. It will be necessary to return to that section for demonstration with the mill at a later date.

Jacqueline Feely, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Feeley of Menlo Park, celebrated her fourth birthday anniversary at the home of her parents on Crane avenue this week. Eight of her little playmates enjoyed the afternoon with the young hostess. Later in the day refreshments were served by the little tot to the delight of all.

Menlo Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, will hold its regular meeting on February 13 with Pres. Grace Berry in the chair. At the adjournment of the meeting the annual Valentine party will be enjoyed by the members and guests from other parlors about the bay region.

Isabella Lindquist sang the solos at the district meeting of the American Legion auxiliaries held in Golden Gate Club House, San Francisco, this week. The following members attended from Menlo Park: Dora Devol, Ethyl French, Vada Hinmon, M. Blanchard, Annie Cosdos and Jeanette O'Neil.

Mrs. Kenneth Murray, who passed away at Redwood City this week, had many friends in Menlo Park who will mourn her departure. The younger years of her life were spent here when her husband was superintendent of the Lynch Nurseries.

Laura Bartels, past president of Menlo Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, and District Deputy Grand President to El Carmelo, Daly City, was among the guests at the official visit Grand President Anna M. Armstrong paid El Carmelo last Wednesday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Catherine Derry and Mrs. Frances Maloney. Mrs. Bartels was presented with a gift of linen by the parlor.

This evening in the Hall of the Nativity the members of St. Joseph's Alumni Association will hold a pre-lentin meeting and after the routine business an enjoyable program will be rendered by the members to terminate with a social dance. Refreshments are to be served during the course of the evening. This affair is to be one of the big events of the season.

On Thursday, February 2, a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hardy. The youngster has been named Barbara Joyce.

James Davis, the local attorney, is seeking a position under the United States Attorney for San Francisco who will be appointed shortly after the inauguration of President-elect Roosevelt. The new man is likely to be H. H. McPike. Davis has a splendid chance for the appointment for he did good work for the Democratic party at the late election. Davis was at one time district attorney of Del Norte County.

A Founder's Day program has been arranged by the Menlo Park Parent-Teacher Association for its regular meeting Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Central School, Menlo Park. Past and present officers of the 17th District Federation of Parents and Teachers have been invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Brady of Portland, Ore., paid a short visit Monday at the home of the former's aunt, Mrs. Ann W. Ahlert in Menlo Park. They also called on James G. Mason of Menlo Park, who celebrated his 78th birthday last Saturday.

Householders were urged today by Fire Chief Thomas to inspect all flues in their homes in order to reduce the fire hazards in the Menlo Park-Atherton district. Ninety per cent of the fires here within the last three months have been caused by defects in the flues, he points out.

A careful inspection should be made to determine that there are no cracks in the chimneys, that all boards are removed from the bottom of the fire place, that there is sufficient air space in the false chimney of wood and plaster around a patent stack and that there is at least two inches of air space around a stove pipe through a wall.

Chief Cuff declared that although a fire loss is covered by insurance in the majority of cases insurance premiums remain high because of carelessness.

Efforts to Escape Zone Laws Reported

Fourteen property owners of the South San Mateo county area today had warned the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors that efforts were being made to cheat the purposes of zoning.

Pending completion of the study by the county planning commission, these property owners have urged the board to adopt a temporary ordinance to prevent any changes from present uses of lands. This was done.

The board is also requested to prevent the erection of buildings, sheds, fences, etc., which might violate the planning code, or to allow alterations or removals of buildings.

Clarke B. Whittier signed one communication and Zoe V. Knox and 12 others signed another.

C. C. Manager to Be Speaker in So. S. F.

Howard I. Wood, manager of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, will address the South San Francisco chamber Friday on the subject of the local deep water port project. The meeting will be held at 6 p. m. in the Metropolitan Grill.

NEW ROUTE FOR COAST ROAD URGED

Ocean Shore Hiway's Long Delay Vexes Citizens

Discouraged over the inability to settle the differences over right of way costs on the proposed Ocean Shore highway, coastside citizens massed in the Half Moon Bay theater Tuesday took steps toward finding a new route for the $5,000,000 project.

Dr. Charles L. Morgan, Half Moon Bay, made the motion which directed that another engineer be secured and that another route be found. It was unanimously carried.

Supervisor Manuel Francis of Half Moon Bay, a director on the highway board, said the matter would be taken up by him at the next meeting, February 16.

Raps S. F. Faith

George E. Dunn, Half Moon Bay publisher, charged that San Francisco officials were not keeping faith on the highway project, citing promises that were made when the San Mateo county board refused to grant the Candlestick Point bridge franchise at San Francisco's request.

Promises repeated by San Francisco officials when the request for a jail in San Mateo county was asked were also cited.

Col. Frederick Peterson, Burlingame, San Mateo county's assemblyman, told the group that he had introduced a bill in the legislature which will assure early action on the Half Moon Bay-San Mateo "cross county" road, if carried.

Roscoe Byrnes, secretary manager of the Building Industries Association of San Mateo, outlined briefly a plan for raising $15,000,000 in bonds with which to create public employment in the bay area. Byrnes said the fund would be raised somewhat on the order of the liberty loan drives.

Sponsored by Clubs

The meeting was held by the San Mateo County Federation of Improvement Clubs and Associations and nearly all clubs of the county were present. Included was the Redwood City Promotion Association and San Carlos Community Club.

Col. Felix La Crosse opened the meeting and T. Louis Chess presided.

Redwood City 30 Years Ago

Miss Ethel Dodge will leave today for San Gregorio to resume her teaching there.

Cliff Bacon came down from San Francisco Saturday and remained over Sunday with his aunt, Mrs. Costello.

Winnie, Cutter, former pitcher for the Redwood City nine, has been signed by Sacramento. Cutter played with the same team last season and made a good record.

Matilda Barret was brought home from the city on Monday after having submitted to an operation for appendicitis. The little lady is now entirely recovered and can eat all the grapes and watermelons she wishes without any fear.

Eighty-four barrels of crude oil, aggregating 9,240 gallons, were landed at the wharf of the light company this week from the stern wheel steamer, Sea Gull. Another cargo is expected within a few days. The oil will be used for making gas and for fuel in the boiler rooms of the plant.

The superintendent of the county farm was permitted to purchase a barrel of whisky not to exceed $2.50 per gallon.

William Curran and Miss Edith Demartini, a popular young couple, surprised their friends by getting married in San Francisco last Friday. They will reside in the city, and have the best wishes of all for a happy married life.

Peterson's Bill Gives Tidelands To City of S. M.

SAN MATEO, Feb. 9.—City Manager Earl P. Wilsey announced today that Col. Frederick Peterson had introduced a bill into the legislature which will give the City of San Mateo title to 62 acres of tidelands at the mouth of Seal creek.

The land will be suitable for wharfage purposes.

Wilsey also announced that State Senator Harry Parkman had won 1,000 trees for the City of San Mateo to be planted in this area as an unemployment relief project.

Coast Highway Appeal Before Legislature

Inclusion of the Half Moon Bay road from the Skyline boulevard to Half Moon Bay in the state's secondary highway system is urged in a bill which the state legislature will consider after the present recess.

The bill was introduced in the legislature by Assemblyman Frederick Peterson of Burlingame, and has been referred to the committee on roads and highways.

October 1 was set for a Northern California Friendly Indian Powwow to be held at Golden Gate Park.

R. C. AMONG LEADERS IN COAST BLD'G

Community Is Among Those Gaining Over January, 1932

Redwood City was among the 25 leading cities on the Pacific coast reporting building permit gains during January, according to a survey prepared today by S. W. Straus & Co.

Also, four cities reporting gains in January over the same month last year were San Francisco, Sacramento, Redwood City and Albany, Ore.

Building permits issued in Redwood City last month amounted to $23,370. December's figures were $2,633. In January, 1932, the amount was $6,265.

San Francisco, aided by permits for the Golden Gate bridge, as well as for the new federal building, reported $14,557,555. Los Angeles was second with $707,248. Redwood City permits were greater than those of Phoenix, Fresno, Santa Monica, Tacoma, Santa Ana, San Marino and Modesto.

The total volume for the 25 leading cities on the Pacific coast reporting the largest amount of building permits in January, 1933, was $16,902,150, compared with $5,493,668 in December, 1932, and $6,709,894 in January, 1932.

Advisability of Restricting Oil Stations Studied by Local C. C.

How to check the promotion of new service stations, particularly where they are set up directly in competition with existing stations which are not enjoying a profitable business, or at least not making more than nominal profits, is a subject being studied by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce.

The question was asked: "Should the city planning commission and the city council grant licenses for service stations without reference to whether such new station might have a chance to be profitable, and without reference to whether another station representing a considerable investment might be put out of business?"

It was agreed that the subject is a difficult one, and there was no attempt to answer the question immediately, but it was felt something should be done to stop the ever increasing number of service stations being built, with few of them in a position to be successful.

It was stated that in many cases salesmen for station equipment promote deals as a means of selling equipment, where there is almost no chance for the station to be profitable. It was suggested that an appeal to the equipment firms might be effective in checking the situation.

RECALL FALLS FLAT

The attempt to recall Governor Rolph by the State Grange has fallen flatly. The people are not in a state of mind to expend the enormous sum of $600,000 for an election to recall an innocent official. The money had better be spent in feeding the hungry of the state.

The disgruntled head of the grange who started the movement soon discovered that the taxpayer had something to say about huge expenditures.

It is said in some political circles that the recall was started by the head of the grange to thwart the ambitions of Governor Rolph who may aspire to be United States Senator should Senator Johnson go into the cabinet. Should the petition for recall be filed in only one county of the state it might prevent the governor in going to Washington should he desire to go. This is the "negro in the woodpile," but not a petition will be filed in face of the tremendous opposition developed in the state.

Almost every county in California has adopted resolutions against the recall. The board of supervisors of San Mateo county was the first to adopt such a resolution.

Governor Rolph is coming back at his accusers in a manner and with a force that will make them seek the shadows and cry for help. Rolph is a fighter whose foil cannot be easily broken. His enemies will discover in him a strong antagonist.

MERGER OF CITIES

Proposing a merger of all cities of San Mateo county into the city and county of San Mateo under one central government, Horace W. Amphlett presented a new consolidation idea at a meeting of the Burlingame-San Mateo Kiwanis Club held last Tuesday. Amhplett has struck the nail square upon the head. That is just what we want. This consolidation would mean the saving of many thousands of dollars for the taxpayer and the government would be just as efficient.

It will not be long before this movement will be recognized in every county of the state. San Mateo county should either adopt this proposal or else merge with San Francisco. The county cannot go on with its big tax rate. Large corporations merge to save expenses and cut down the overhead. Why cannot county governments do the same? Amphlett has started something that is certain to find a responsive chord in the heart of every property owner of the county.

This is a question that every taxpayer should consider and weigh well.

Furnace heat for homes without a basement

GAS HEATING EQUIPMENT MAKES THIS POSSIBLE

IN too many homes a heating system that gives circulated heat has been neglected. Because excavation for a basement is costly or because homes have been built so that no basement has been possible, stoves and fireplaces have become the heating system for these homes.

Today gas floor furnaces change the whole situation for homes without a basement and homes that can never have a basement. These efficient heating devices, capable of keeping homes of from four to seven rooms to "Comfort Zone" warmth, can be quickly and easily installed.

Gas floor furnaces have established a record for economy in supplying small homes with furnace heat. The local office of the P. G. & E. can show you what other residents in your locality are paying for floor furnace heat. Phone your local gas appliance dealer or talk with a representative of this company today about floor furnace heat.

Natural Gas will maintain this "Comfort Zone" 71° 65° at low cost

The floor plan to the left shows a typical floor furnace installation in a small home. These compact heating units rapidly circulate an abundance of warm air and are capable of heating several rooms. When of adequate size and properly installed these efficient heaters solve the problem of circulated heat for small homes at a very low cost.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: Its Advantages Free To All

By REV. IRVING C. TOMLINSON, C. S. B. of Boston, Massachusetts

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. Mass.

From the moment of its first discovery in 1866 by Mary Baker Eddy, Christian Science has offered advantages that have been widely recognized. The number is growing that accepts these benefits.

What are these advantages?

The great advantage Christian Science bestows upon men is the gain of spiritual understanding, by which they win a demonstrable sense of God and man, and the result is harmony in place of discord, the true way to peace in place of war; health instead of disease, strength instead of weakness; prosperity rather than adversity, supply rather than lack; employment in place of unemployment, work in place of idleness; freedom, not bondage; liberty, not serfdom; joy rather than sorrow, happiness rather than grief; fruitage instead of dearth, life instead of death.

Who is there in the world that does not desire these advantages? How then may we take them? By right thinking and true living; in a word, by knowing the truth.

Investigation of this subject is free to all. Christian Science Sunday services and Wednesday evening testimony meetings in The Mother Church and its branch churches throughout the world are open to all. Christian Science Reading Rooms in nearly every large city, as well as smaller ones, welcome all. Christian Science literature through its active distribution committees is placed conveniently for inquirers. Its authorized lectures are without admission fee.

What is it that hinders some from accepting God's benefits? What is it but a wrong sense of things? False education has taught mortals to look to the five corporeal senses for reliable testimony about all things.

THE CORPOREAL SENSES ARE UNRELIABLE

The world has made a verity of the corporeal senses. What the material eye sees has been thought of as real and God-given. Many thinkers are breaking away from this false idolatry. Through Christian Science they are turning from their childish ignorance of reality to the true understanding of the genuine facts of being. Mankind is learning that this outward world, as viewed by the five senses, is not the world of God's creating, but is a counterfeit; that which seems to be but is not.

For example, in the Canadian Rockies, when one from his hotel first looks upon Lake Louise, with high mountains at its foot that appear to close in at its remote head, the lake seems to be a triangle with the base parallel to the hotel. The next day, when he climbs the mountain and looks upon the beautiful sheet of water, it appears a parallelogram with four equal sides. Only scientific engineering can disclose the truths about this gem of the mountains, for the material senses contradict themselves.

Likewise the material senses that seem to tell us the facts about God, man, and the universe are at fault in their testimony, and the truth must be discerned by an understanding of the Scriptures and the Science of being. The Scriptures reveal that God is Mind, Spirit, Life, Truth, Love. Christian Science teaches that God is the infinite Soul of every living thing, the divine Principle of all that is.

Christian Science also tells us that man "is not made up of brain, blood, bones, and other material elements" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 475). This is right in line with Biblical authority, for the Bible says that man is made in the image and likeness of God. So man is like Truth, like Love; he is the image of Mind, the reflection of Life, the expression of Soul, the manifestation of Principle. Material sense has perpetrated many deceptions upon humanity and among these is the deception that the corporeal body, physique, is man.

Has God a single one of the corporeal senses? The entire realm of material sense is outside the realm of divine intelligence. All our troubles occur in the material sense realm. Accumulation of matter is an accumulation of material sense testimony and therefore an accumulation of matter is futile to guarantee security against losses and crashes in business. Right today, what has become of confidence in the material régime of business? Both rich and poor alike are uncertain and fearful. But spiritual ideas, which are real and good, are cumulative, for, "Whosover hath, to him shall be given." For he who discerns the line of demarcation between corporeal sense and reality, between matter and Spirit, receives more spiritual ideas, more understanding, which is the substance of Spirit.

Again, to continue on this point of corporeal sense, no organic structure can make dust see. Does an unconscious mortal see, though his eye is perfect? Is there any vision where there is no mind, no consciousness? Did not the Psalmist catch a glorious glimpse of this when he said: "He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? He that formed the eye, shall he not see?" And who is this He but divine Mind? Has this Mind visual organs? Does it not see without organic structure? The perfect understanding of "Mind-faculties" (Science and Health, p. 487) enabled Jesus to heal blindness.

GOD AVAILABLE FOR ALL NEEDS

One may say: "You may be able to see with the eye of spiritual sense but I simply cannot do it. I should like to know God, who, as the Bible says, 'healeth all thy diseases.' I should like to see the truth that will free me from the bondage of error, but how can I?" Christian Science makes clear that the normal thing, the natural thing, is to see God, to know the truth, and be a free man.

How then shall we remove the veil that hides reality? What constitutes the veil of obscurity but fear, ignorance, and sin? Ignorance of what God is, ignorance of what man is.

Before hearing of Christian Science, although I was an ordained clergyman and seeking God, I seemed unable to feel His nearness sufficiently to see God's promise fulfilled, that He "healeth all thy diseases." The Bible accounts of God's helpful dealings with patriarch and prophet seemed impossible in our times. But after getting an understanding of Christian Science, after infinite Mind, our God, had healed me of stubborn ailments through my silent communion with Him, God then seemed near, "a very present help" in times of trouble. Then I had a God that was close by and available for my needs.

For example, after I had learned of Christian Science, whenever I had finished a long, hard day's work and was weary and confused, I would take time to think of Him, to realize His infinite love and His omnipotent power. Then the weariness would fade away, the confusion vanish, and strength and alertness take their places. This made the God of the Bible very real and a healing influence, for my need was met. When one knows and proves that he has an all-powerful, all-loving, and ever-present helper always available, does not that kind of thinking give him confidence to meet every problem and take away all doubts?

THE ADVANTAGE OF KNOWING GOD ARIGHT

Christian Science taught me the supreme value of knowing God aright. As I learned more of God as Principle, I took my first step out of the old into the new. I had never thought of using the truth about God and man as a help in healing. I accepted the scholastic teaching about God and left it there. I read in the original Greek that God is Spirit, but I still clung to physical force as power and gave no heed to all-powerful, impartial Love.

When a Christian Scientist, a friend, told me a little about God as divine Principle, I got my first glimpse of Deity as practical and available. This friend explained to me that there must be a governing Principle of God's kingdom, that God is the Principle of the spiritual universe and man. When we perceive that God is Principle, then we have a Science available to solve our mental, moral, and physical problems.

Christian Science includes in its unparalleled definition of God seven synonyms, "Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love" (Science and Health, p. 465), and these terms are of equal rank and are interchangeable. But like the facets of a flawless diamond they flash variegated lights for our understanding. They present to our perception various aspects of divinity, as for example the primitive, unchanging essence of good; the dependability and authoritativeness of Deity, that power which rules all nations with a rod of iron, that is, an immutable Principle. This Principle is incorruptible Being; a continuing Principle which presents an aspect of eternal Life, its permanence and continuity, as well as the invariable nature of Truth and the immutability of Love. What a blessing to mankind it is to have a God we can intelligently know and lovingly call on in every emergency, try, weigh, measure what Principle is, as distinguished from material desire, human will, mesmerism, and personality.

Again, Principle is the one and only Mind, God. When this Mind is made manifest it exterminates error. God, infinite Mind, operating through spiritual law, heals the sick. The right knowing of God is the apprehension that God is Life, Truth, Love. Life is divine Love in action. Real Life is one infinite, eternal, omnipresent, indestructible, self-existent Truth. When we know Truth, we become conscious of Life, real being. This knowing is reflection—then we are in Life. Jesus said: "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent." To know God is real being, and Christian Science makes it possible to know God. Mortality is ignorance of Life.

We have as much of God's allness as we understand and demonstrate, but this we cannot demonstrate unless we grasp the great truth in Christian Science that there is but one Mind. Suppose a case of domestic discord. Can we not see that knowing there is but one Mind would be a help? With as many minds in the home as there are mortals these many minds might express ignorance, fear, doubt. These many minds might not have completely overcome the flesh. Human error might suggest to them, jealousy, resentment, irritation; but knowing that there is only one Mind and that Mind God, can and does put an end to the belief of many minds operating. Then the peace of this one Mind would be made manifest in the very qualities of divine Mind's own nature. We learn never to settle any subject until we refer it to Mind, God, and consider it from a correct basis.

CHRIST JESUS

In his thinking and living the Christian Scientist finds that the scientific understanding of Christ Jesus is fundamental in his healing work. What was it that made Jesus victor? He explained it, saying, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." "I and my Father are one," were his words. Not that he taught that he was God, for he said, "My Father is greater than I," but that his nature was the very nature of his Father. The Christ is the very nature and essence of God expressed. It is this nature, this Christ, Truth, that is always with us, that does the works through us as it did through Jesus; hence Jesus could say, "The works that I do shall he do also."

The invisible Christ-idea through the human Jesus reached humanity, made the Word flesh, made the Christ practical in human affairs. This application of Truth to human experience was divinity reaching humanity with salvation, with understanding, for it imparted a new basis of being. A proper understanding, a correct estimate of Christ Jesus, is essential; the revelation cannot be separated from the revelator. The Christ-idea gives to men the ability to govern corporeal phenomena by spiritual law; as our Leader says, "The Principle of these marvelous works is divine; but the actor was human" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 199).

MAN

In Christ, Truth, is found the right understanding of man. In the light of Christ, Truth, man is lifted out of the darkness of a matter existence into the kingdom of Spirit, God. In the words of Scripture, Man is the image and likeness of God; that is, he is not of the dust, not like matter, not like flesh, but the image of his Maker, the likeness of Spirit, the idea of Mind, the reflection of divine Love.

The qualities of the animal nature do not constitute man. The real man is not physical, not material, but he is of the same nature as his creator; the nature of good, the nature of Truth, the nature of unending Life. Good is eternal; Truth never dies. Man, the real man, who is like good, like Truth, is unending. If the real man were flesh, if he had any of the elements of matter, he would be as frail, as temporal, as mortal as matter; but God's man, that each one is, Spirit's likeness, manifests dominion; he is without beginning of years or end of days. He is immutable, indestructible, immortal.

Christ Jesus had this right understanding of man, as Science and Health teaches, the same spiritual status of man which heals the sick and the sinning. It is well to picture the real man, to vision the spiritual fact, and firmly turn our thoughts away from the material concept of man, for man is not the human concept of man. We are destined to outgrow mortal definitions of ourselves. We must transplant our concept of man from the human and mortal to the infinite and divine, for such intelligent thinking is health making and harmony producing and leads the way to our heavenly estate.

HEALINGS

It is this true understanding of God and man in the light of Christ, Truth, through which healing is wrought in Christian Science. Mrs. Eddy, its Founder, was ever tireless in her search for more and more of this true sense of God and man. She was the embodiment of courage. In her consciousness there was no element of weakness. Whatever the seeming discord or stubborn opposition, she rose magnificently, single-handed and for the most part alone, to meet it. Such understanding, such spiritual power, such certainty of truth, such conviction of right shone forth from Mary Baker Eddy! She knew that God had spoken and she was immovable in Truth.

Time would not permit me to relate the many cases of healing wrought by Mrs. Eddy which I saw with my own eyes. Others were related to me by Mrs. Eddy herself, or told to me by those healed, or described to me by those possessed of the facts. May I give two cases of healing by Mrs. Eddy herself, that I witnessed.

A lady of Concord, New Hampshire, telephoned me for help on the day that the Christian Scientists in attendance upon the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church were visiting Concord in 1902. I asked the patient to come to Christian Science Hall, which was then my residence as well as the temporary church home. She told me that she was so ill with what the doctors called asthma and heart disease, that she knew she could not walk the three short blocks, and if she did it would be impossible to climb the few steps leading to the hall.

She arrived, however, at the hour that Mrs. Eddy was to pass in her carriage. I told her that Mrs. Eddy was expected any moment and that she had sent word to me that she would be glad to greet the waiting Scientists. Her carriage soon approached. The patient stood on the sidewalk leading to Christian Science Hall, where Mrs. Eddy could easily see her. After Mrs. Eddy had gone by, I said to the woman that I would help her up the steps into the home to have her treatment. She replied in effect: "Why, I don't need a treatment. I am healed. When dear Mrs. Eddy passed she recognized me, greeted me, and now I am well." True it was, the cure had been wrought, and this woman gratefully acknowledged Mrs. Eddy as the channel of her restoration.

Out of many, I select another case of healing I witnessed, this time in the home at Chestnut Hill. One morning when the household was called into the study by Mrs. Eddy, a case of instantaneous healing was wrought by her before our very eyes. As the family entered the study, one member made her way into the room with great difficulty. She had all the appearances of one suffering from nervous prostration or great exhaustion. Mrs. Eddy saw her pitiful condition, and called the struggler to her side. Then she spoke to her with decision, rebuking the error and calling on her to come out from her mesmerism and to witness to her true selfhood. While the members of the household stood there, they saw a decided change come over the patient. Mrs. Eddy continued to rebuke the error as she teaches Christian Scientists to do, and before the eyes of those present, the afflicted one was completely healed. What seemed a rebuke to a friend was a rebuke to the error, which proved its nothingness.

The evidence that it was Love which governed Mrs. Eddy is the fact that quickly the patient was completely healed. When the members of the household left the room, the restored member went about her affairs and continued from that moment the ever faithful helper of Mrs. Eddy that she had always been. Now this healing which Mrs. Eddy did and taught is going on in the world through the religious movement which she established.

SERVICE

Ernest inquirers ask: "What does Christian Science say about hard times? What antidote has it for want, depression, discouragement?" It teaches that spiritual thinking and clean living will antidote hard times, it says that unselfish service will heal depression. Because Mrs. Eddy lived in obedience to the divine Principle, Love, which she taught, she fell heir to its promises; she therefore manifested its quality of abundance.

Poverty, unemployment, hardship assailed Mrs. Eddy. Abandoned by her family, with no human source of supply, no occupation or employment, she offered her wares,—Christian Science,—all she had. They were not comprehended, not wanted; they were disapproved, rejected. But as the years went on, the operation of divine Principle in her experience brought plenty and met every need. Panics, depression, market conditions had no effect upon her status. Abundance poured in upon her, because her motive was to bring to mankind the revelation which was to help humanity. Her holdings were spiritual, a property that could not be mortgaged, foreclosed, or lost: it was the kingdom of heaven within her—and all these things were added.

Let us contemplate the example of her demonstration of supply, for Mrs. Eddy's demonstration of sufficiency is in the life she led. I shall never forget my first interview with her, in her home at Concord, New Hampshire. She had just given the "Address on the Fourth of July at Pleasant View . . . , 1897" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 251). Mary Baker Eddy was in her seventy-sixth year. She had not only spoken at length, but had listened attentively to many speakers, had served as hostess to the throng, had interviewed many of her followers, but when I took her hand in greeting, though the day was one of the hottest of summer days, she was cool and peaceful, unruffled in outward appearance, and aglow with spiritual strength. She greeted me with a loving smile. Every look, word, gesture, showed her a born leader and a true woman. This was a picture of Mrs. Eddy's sense of service (mind you in her seventy-sixth year), and this was the way I found her during my twelve years of happy service with her, always unselfed love, expressed.

Truly selfless love is the demand of the Cause she founded, for Mrs. Eddy has so modestly said of herself in "The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany" (p. 247), "The little that I have accomplished has all been done through love,—self-forgetful, patient, unfaltering tenderness."

Now let me tell you another story about Mrs. Eddy. Early in the Civil War, she learned that a young soldier was about to start for the front without a copy of the sacred Scriptures. She made inquiries and learned that the young volunteer was the eldest son of a poor widow. It was at a time when Mrs. Eddy's income was modest, and her charities to the soldiers and their families had left her on this day with but a dollar in her purse.

To her sense, the young man's need outweighed her own. She took her dollar and with it bought a New Testament and gave it to the young defender of his country. Some time after the close of the war, when the brave soldiers were returning to their homes, there came a rap at Mrs. Eddy's door. There was ushered in a bearded man wearing a soldier's garb.

When Mrs. Eddy met him, he said: "You do not remember me, but I am the soldier to whom you gave a Testament as I was going to join my regiment. I have sought you out to thank you for the blessed book, which has always been a help to me and which was the means of saving my life."

He then carefully took from his pocket the well-worn Testament and presented it to Mrs. Eddy. Embedded between its covers was a leaden bullet. Said the soldier, "That rifle ball was meant for my heart, and I have come many miles to show you that your goodness saved my life."

THE REMEDY FOR DEPRESSION

Mrs. Eddy's teaching and practice point out the remedy for want, depression, and unemployment and show how to gain supply, employment, abundance. For the spread of Christian Science Mrs. Eddy left a rich bequest to her church and this bequest was the outcome of her desire to serve. The way to get is to give. It is said that Christian Scientists are prosperous. The reason is plain. Those who give of themselves thereby reflect their Maker, the source of all supply. In accord with infinite good in serving and in giving, the law of good works on their behalf. Forsaking the false sense of self, they find themselves in the realm of spiritual sense where God, the source of supply, dwells.

In the recent period of material inflation men exalted self and lost love. In the present times of trial and stress men are endeavoring to retrace by learning to lose self and win love. They are taking up the cross by putting down self-interest and making life a loving service.

A Christian Scientist does not try to demonstrate dollars and cents. What a Christian Scientist does is to gain an unfoldment of the truth of being in his individual consciousness: this is unfolding to the truth about Life. Is not Life self-sustained? Is Life not all-sufficient? And in unfolding to Life are we not unfolding to its all-sufficiency?

What Christian Science does is to unfold to the student's thought the truth about Love; does not Love forever receive and give? There is no impoverished condition where inexhaustible Love is. A Christian Scientist awakens to the truth about substance, as Science and Health (p. 468) says, "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay." When one is convinced about the true sense of substance there is no fear that it can be diminished or be lessened,—there is enough for all.

This right knowing always results in right activity, and the proof of our knowing is that righteous needs in our journey out of sense into Soul are met. We find out what we are and we find we have all. So the words of the prophet call out today to all mankind, "Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee."

MRS. EDDY'S SERVICE TO HUMANITY

Mrs. Eddy was the herald of good times. This does not mean that she was always affluent. She has often told me that while she was writing Science and Health she had but one presentable gown and this she mended and patched times without number. But even in those days she would share.

She had absolute confidence in her message, and though none of her students encouraged her in writing the Christian Science textbook, she resolutely continued, trusting God and not personality to support her. At one time when it was needful that she visit her publisher in Boston she did not have the money to pay her carfare. She started to walk the entire distance from Lynn to Boston.

Fortunately a kindly undertaker, seeing the lone, mature figure of a delicate gentlewoman traveling along the highway invited her to share his seat with him. This offer she gratefully and graciously accepted. He did not know her, but afterwards learned who she was, and told this story of her ride with him.

As time went on, through the success of her writings, she was able to give more and more to the Cause. When it took nearly all her ready funds, she set aside one hundred thousand dollars to build a suitable church in Concord for the accommodation of the vast number of visitors who were pouring into Concord from all over the world. She started to build The Mother Church during the so-called hard times of 1892 to 1894, and it was dedicated without a debt.

When this edifice was outgrown she called for two million dollars to build The Mother Church Extension, and before its completion word went out that no more money was needed. In the spirit of their Leader, since their present Publishing House is outgrown, the Board of Directors of the Christian Science church sent out word to Christian Scientists to meet this need.

Christian Scientists are erecting a commodious building and thus doing their part to stop the gap of unemployment. In this work they are proving the truth of the teachings of Christian Science. Knowing the truth of substance and living it, the law of supply, the law of addition, does work for all the abundance of good.

THE ADVANTAGE OF EFFECTUAL PRAYER

This true knowing that makes God available comes from the understanding of the real nature of prayer which Mary Baker Eddy has given to the world today. Not a prayer of supplication and informing God what to do, but a prayer of realization that knows what God has for us and what He does for us. Mrs. Eddy was a woman of prayer. Her household was a house of prayer; so let us ponder the subject of prayer from the standpoint of Christian Science.

The prayer of a Christian Scientist, then, is more than that of supplication or petition. It is more than saying you haven't a headache and you know it. Prayer is entering into the closet of divine Mind and shutting the door on material sense. This is in accord with Jesus' instructions to his disciples on prayer.

Prayer—is it not a spiritual process, this gaining the ear of God? a mental action, whereby we enter into the awareness of God's presence? To do this means obedience to the rules given us for our daily living, for our daily deeds. Working thus, in constant obedience to the divine laws given us in the Bible and in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" we cannot fail to see the light that will give us guidance, love. Thus we gain the wisdom which makes inevitable the correct solution of every human problem.

Mary Baker Eddy shows us how we may come into actual touch with God's presence and have audience with Him. It is through prayer and the understanding of what real goodness is that we arrive at this consciousness of God-given dominion. As Jesus said in that wonderful prayer in the seventeenth chapter of John in which he prayed, "O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was." Science and Health says (p. 15), "Lips must be mute and materialism silent, that man may have audience with Spirit, the divine Principle, Love, which destroys all error."

Again Science and Health says (p. 89), "Spirit, God, is heard when the senses are silent." We reach God through spiritual consciousness, through glorified thought. The right kind of thought, which is true prayer, leads us to our Father-Mother, God. And so what more definite procedure could there be, to attain spirituality, than to set about to find God through learning to pray aright? that is, to have thought dwell in His presence in silent prayer until we assimilate spiritual nature, bringing out in action only the qualities of our source, God? Prayer is not the striving of the human mind, a prayer that is not just the repetition of the arguments of Truth, but a prayer in which all human selfhood is so surrendered that the divine Life itself is made manifest in righteous action: a prayer in which revelation takes place. Through such prayer we gain the grace of God which heals and which changes our natures. This silent communion with divine Mind is vital; it is a paramount factor in our salvation. Therein lies the victory over mortal circumstances and dominion over materialism.

The lack of confidence in the power of prayer is due, no doubt, to the unwillingness of the human mind to endure the mental discipline needed for the fulfillment of God's purpose. There is a certain human resistance to all that is spiritual, and this resistance makes it difficult sometimes to pray. Affairs obtrude, persons, situations, events, flood the mind. Lack of time is argued, inability to comprehend spiritual things, all hinder in our efforts to talk with God. Hence the discipline required for taking time to conquer this error. Intruding and distracting thoughts may not be easily frustrated. The incoming truth stirs mortal elements, sometimes bringing out the dregs—irritability, restlessness, and discontent. These effects, however, are simply due to the fumes of dissolving beliefs, and they will sooner or later disappear. As the spirit of true prayer is reached, all mesmerism is dissolved, for Spirit dissipates the magnetism of material things.

PRAYER MUST BE LIVED

For example let us study the experience of Jacob. Disciplined by difficulties, he wrestled all night, and when the vision came he held to it; he held steadfastly to it until "the breaking of day," that is, until his nature was transformed. So it is with Christian Scientists. As we enter the spiritual realm of pure Mind, we feel the joy and gratitude of knowing Life, Truth, and Love, and from this vantage ground we affirm with the conviction and certitude of understanding the facts taught in Christian Science—health, wholeness, life, abundance.

Spiritual understanding cannot be increased merely by expounding. We have to live our way to higher perception. That is why mere academics in all the centuries have not attained what the fisherman disciples gained comparatively at a bound. Not acumen, but spiritual living, clears the thought. "Man's moral mercury, rising or falling, registers his healing ability" (Science and Health, p. 449).

Work, carved into deeds, gives results. Life, scientifically ordered according to Principle, will result in the wonderful power by which the fishermen's boat was transported across the lake. A life ordered by Spirit forwards the spiritual new birth, and ascension from scale to scale follows.

We must remember that active participation in good is understanding. But confusion of our thought manifests itself in confusion. All sin, dishonesty, selfishness, malice, envy are manifestations of ignorance. Good deeds bring good results. Let us be in line, in active participation with the operations of divine Mind; and if we are faithful we can express the divine Mind. It is impossible to understand Truth until we have the courage to live it.

Christian Science came through prayer and only prayer can carry it on. Prayer in Christian Science illumines thought; it "lights the torch of spiritual understanding" (Science and Health, p. 202). Under the brightness of this light, mortal mind is lifted above its own false conceptions. Then the divine Mind with its order possesses consciousness, and its ideas take form to human sense as answered need. And so right thinking externalizes itself in right conditions.

Every time the light of Truth shines into our consciousness revealing the fact of God's allness and man's perfection, we catch a glimpse of the truth Mary Baker Eddy discovered: every time a healing takes place there is enjoyed the blessing which Mary Baker Eddy brought to humanity. Do not honesty and gratitude compel recognition of the debt to a discoverer of this boon to mankind? A right estimate of a revelation of so great salvation is a test of intelligence. Note how the great Way-shower tested the intelligence of his disciples by examining their estimate of himself, "Whom say ye that I am?" Even so today humanity's intelligent grasp of the truth is tested by its thoughts of Mrs. Eddy, through whom the Christ-healing has come today and through whom a more widespread interest in God is being manifested. Through her teachings has come a renaissance in this study of the Holy Scriptures, as evidenced in the phenomenal increase in the sale of Bibles.

So I conclude with a blessing written in a letter to me by Mrs. Eddy in 1905: "May our Father-Mother bless you, keep you awake to the foe and thoroughly garrisoned in His Spirit" (original letter in the archives of The Mother Church).

Oil Co. Sued For $66,094 After Crash

Damages of $66,094.30 were asked today by Arthur J. Walkup, 48, San Francisco interior decorator and painter, against the Union Oil Company of California and Charles F. Temme, local salesman for the firm, for injuries incurred in a truck-automobile collision on the coast highway near Princeton on October 20, 1932.

Walkup's sedan, being driven north on the coast highway, and a company tank truck, driven by Temme, collided one-half mile south of the town of Princeton.

The plaintiff's injuries consisted of a cerebral concussion which caused him to be unconscious for five days; fracture of the right forearm; fracture of the ninth and tenth ribs; injury to the right sacro-iliac region; impairment of vision and severe shock.

Walkup declares the injury to his brain and neck to be permanent and a 25 per cent disability of his right forearm cannot be corrected.

The plaintiff will not be able to follow his occupation in the future, he declares. For this reason he asks $15,000. Fifty thousand is asked for general damages and the balance for costs of medical treatment.

Attorney Raymond Perry of San Francisco is counsel for the plaintiff.

In a previously filed suit growing out of the same accident, John E. Connell of San Francisco is seeking $25,473 for the death of his wife, Evelyn, a guest in Walkup's car. This suit is now pending.

Four High School Girls Incur Injuries

Fire District Additions Get Co. Approval

Addition of 205 acres to the fire limits of the Woodside Fire District stood approved by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors today.

Taken into the limits of the district were the properties of the Menlo Country Club, 120 acres assessed at $15,000; Matthew A. Harris, 18 acres assessed for $2,000, and F. H. Crosby, 67 acres assessed at $19,500.

Edward T. Harrison, one of the commissioners, said the inclusion of the territory had the approval of the fire board.

Peninsula Man's Auto Injures Boy

The automobile of Alvin Meyer, 79 Hanover street, South San Francisco, seriously injured Richard Orr, 12, of 140 Kingston street, San Francisco, son of Charles Orr, newspaper cameraman, in San Francisco yesterday. In the car with Meyer was his son, Alvin Jr., 5, who was also seriously injured.

Meyer's car and one driven by Tiberio Starelli, 176 Dolores street, San Francsico, collided, throwing the former into a telegraph pole and overturning on the sidewalk. The Orr boy was pinned beneath.

PARIS (AP)—High backed slippers are the newest thing in footwear. The latest models are designed with unusually high backs which follow the line of the ankle and end in a point. Kid is the favorite leather for these high backed shoes.

MENLO PARK BOY HERE ON FURLOUGH

Thomas Furman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Furman of Menlo Park, has returned to California after a three months' cruise as a cadet on the American-Hawaiian liner, Golden Wall. He plans to spend much of his three weeks' furlough with his parents. After a Sunday call at home, he sailed today for San Pedro, where the boat will drydock, but will return within a few days.

Since shipping as a cadet, young Furman has visited every port on the Pacific.

It is not yet known where sprats, a fish found in British waters between November and February, go during the rest of the year.

Woodside Girl Scouts Prepare For Anniversary

WOODSIDE, Feb. 7.—Wild Rose troop of Girl Scouts is busy these days pracicing knot tying for its demonstration in the combined celebration of the establishing of the national Girl Scout movement March 12, 1912, which will be recognized in Redwood City March 11.

The Woodside troop expects to appear in the event attired in Girl Scout uniforms for the first time. This is made possible by the funds recently raised by a community card party. The girls are also working a French bouquet patchwork quilt which will be sold later for the benefit of the local troop. The Girl Scout drive is going forward in this community.

The funeral of William J. Nodder took place in San Francisco yesterday afternoon. The deceased was well-known in this locality for many years and for the past seven years had made frequent visits to the family's summer home in the Woodside Glens. Besides the widow, Mrs. Lizzie R. Nodder, the other close relatives are his sons, William D., Arthur T., Fred G. and the late Joseph A. Nodder and one daughter, Mrs. Rose Devon.

Mr. Nodder, who was a native of England, was a member of Pacific Lodge No. 136, Free and Accepted Masons; Bald Eagle Tribe No. 75, Improved Order of Red Men, and Golden Gate Camp No. 64, Woodmen of the World. Interment was in Woodlawn Memorial Park.

O. W. Dudley of Neuman Bros. store was able to return to work yesterday after several days at his home.

The Woodside Parent-Teacher Association will hold a whist party Friday evening at the Woodside school auditorium, in order that from the proceeds it may continue serving hot drinks to the Woodside school children through the remaining winter months. This will be another one of the community's social affairs, with the score cards and refreshments included in the admission of 35 cents.

Eugene H. Grosser, foreman at the La Honda maintenance station of the Division of California State Highways, returned to his duties yesterday after a three-month absence, during which time he was recovering from injuries incurred in a fall.

Mrs. J. N. Taylor Heads Y's Mothers

The Y's Mothers' Club elected Mrs. J. N. Taylor as president for the coming year, Mrs. Ted Andrews as vice-president, Mrs. George North as secretary, and Mrs. G. L. Kniveton, treasurer, at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Roy A. Hohberger on Edgewood road Tuesday afternoon.

Roy A. Hohberger, the local Young Men's Christian Association secretary, gave a brief report of the activities of the clubs under the program of the Y. M. C. A. in Redwood City.

Through this club the association is learning the problems which the home is facing and the mothers are being acquainted with the program activities. During the past year the club has had a number of outstanding educators speak along the line of healthy boy development.

Inasmuch as a number of mothers found that it was difficult to attend luncheon meetings, the club decided to meet at homes of the members for the next several months.

The club voted to send two boys to camp this coming summer.

The mothers will take over the toy stack work for Christmas of 1933. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Andrews a storeroom will be secured for this work, which will start in October.

A special effort is being put forth to interest as many mothers of Redwood City and the vicinity as possible. Membership is not limited to mothers whose boys are participating in the program but is open to all.

Epworth League Convention Due

Announcement is made of the annual San Francisco district Epworth League convention to be held at San Jose February 25-26.

Representatives from Redwood City and other peninsula units as well as from San Francisco and Berkeley will attend the two-day meeting.

Mrs. B. E. Myers, wife of the city clerk and treasurer, is recovering today from the effects of a fall last Thursday evening, which injured her seriously.

While visiting at the home of Mrs. D. M. Salsbury, 19 Grand street, Mrs. Myers fell down a flight of stairs and struck a cement floor. She incurred concussion of the brain, severe shock and bruises.

Local Couples At S. J. Shower

Among the guests at a recent surprise shower given in San Jose for Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Wilent, whose wedding in Santa Cruz last September has just been announced, were Mr. and Mrs. George Faulstich, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Phillips, all of Redwood City.

A "49'er Night" was enjoyed by more than 300 employes of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. at a party and dance held in Sunnyvale on Saturday night. Costumes of early California predominated and the entire hall was decorated to represent the town of "Slippery Gulch." Stage money was the sole purchasing power within the hall.

BELLE MONTI CLUB OFFICERS ELECTED

The board of directors of the Belle Monti Country Club, recently elected for a two-year term, met Sunday and elected new officers as follows: Keene Fitzpatrick, president; Joseph Rafael, first vice-president; Miss M. A. Cavanagh, second vice-president; J. V. Young, treasurer, and Mrs. Ola H. Ross, secretary.

The club has an active program for the year, including the conducting of a number of interesting tournaments, some of which, including the San Mateo county golf championship, are open to the public.

Among the "comforts" provided for passengers on the new French liner Normandie are a theatre, a church, a "street" of shops, cafe, dance salon, winter garden, and a garage. The ship also has six separate wireless installations on board.

Macauley Wins Service Medal At Burlingame

BURLINGAME, Feb. 7.—In recognition of his work in behalf of the county's unemployed, Capt. Edward Macauley, director of the San Mateo County Committee on Unemployed Relief and a retired naval officer, today was named to receive the Community Service Award for 1932.

Twelve judges making up the award committee had six names before them for consideration. Captain Macauley is at present in the East on business and has not been apprised that he has won the honor.

Henry G. Pausmann Will on File Here

The will of Henry G. Pausmann, 53, of Burlingame, who died in San Francisco, January 21, was filed for probate today in Redwood City by his widow, Mary A. Pausmann, 1512 Carol avenue, Burlingame. The estate will exceed $10,000 and is left to the widow except for $10,000, which is left in trust for the benefit of Pausmann's mother, Mrs. Anna Pausmann, 2956 Baker street, San Francisco. Orrick, Palmer & Dahlquist are handling the estate.

Sunnyvale Base Construction Work 70 Per Cent Completed

This was revealed today by Lieut. Comm. Edward L. Marshall, the navy's director of construction, who reported that approximately $3,500,000 of the $5,000,000 appropriation for the air base has been expended in actual contract construction up to the present date.

Work has been proceeding at a rate of more than $300,000 a month for the past nine months, according to the voucher records at the navy's construction office.

The contracts for the completion of the interior of the hangar and the installation of necessary services are expected to reach a point where the huge orange-peel doors at the north and south ends may be tested by early in March. The doors are ready to operate at the present time, but as yet there is no power available for their motors. For the erection of the interior shops and the laying of the concrete hangar floor a $222,600 contract, the Dinwiddie Construction Company has until April 23 to complete the job.

At the south entrance to the hangar work is proceeding rapidly on the erection of the portable mooring mast which will be put into first active use with the expected arrival of the new airship Macon about May 1. The 55-ton telescopic section of the mast has already been put into place.

Upon the completion of the mast work will commence immediately on the erection of 180-foot long stern beam, to which the tail of the airship will be hitched during docking operations.

As much speed as possible is being made upon the erection of the aerological building, which will be the headquarters for the highly important work of making meterological observations. It is hoped to have this unit in full action by the time of the Macon's arrival. These necessary observations, of course, are being and have been made regularly at the air base.

The group of five industrial buildings stands completed and ready for occupancy at the station. Tests of the helium repurification and storage plant are still in progress. Within a few days ground work will commence upon the construction of an airplane runway to the east of the hangar.

Landscaping Planned

Spring will see the commencement of the landscaping of the base, which is planned to be one of the most beautiful of all of the naval stations in the country. The first operation will be the grading of all the grounds around the various buildings, a sizable operation in itself.

Actual demonstration of the ease of communication between the air station and Palo Alto is already given by the Bayshore highway, whose section to the south of Palo Alto has been graded as far as the air base, although it is not open to traffic at the present time. This highway runs directly past the southwesterly side of the air base, and the main entrance to the station, which will be marked by a gate house now being constructed, will be only 900 feet from it. The entrance was offset from the highway because of the dangers that might be created by high speed traffic there.
